Strength from Balance Class: Relieve stress and relax, gain strength and flexibility on a new level, and achieve overall balance for well-being. This practice is designed to balance the body, focus the mind and recharge the spirit, unifying body, mind and breath. Each class consists of gentle movements, classical asanas and breathing exercises to foster the creative energy within.

Unified Body Method™ Classes

Unified Body Method™, both a preventative practice and healing technique, is based on specific sequences of movement that assist in developing subtle awareness of the balance between body, breath and mind. With this complete awareness we focus on awakening the solar plexus, releasing contractions and regulating muscle tone. The gentle sequences are designed to introduce a broader range of neuro-pathways, increasing the intelligence of the body-mind connection. The Unified Body Method™ enables us to remain in sync with the laws of nature, eliminating duality so that we may live synergistically within our universe. Taught by Erik Knuth
